

SENIOR SWORDPLAY

A PLAY

P1

P2

CHARACTER BREAKDOWN

Female

A PhD psychologist

Any ethnicity

50s

Male

A welder

Any ethnicity

50s

SENIOR

After Maeve and Rob meet through an online dating site, this seemingly mismatched PhD psychologist and blue-collar welder have their first real date. They promptly begin a provocative and sensual journey of discovery to learn to what extent they might, or might not, be compatible and suited for a long-term relationship.

DEVELOPMENT HISTORY

CHICAGO DRAMATISTS

The Center for New Play Development

First Draft Program

Online Reading

Kate Ryan

SENIOR

REVIEWS

“Ruyle's Senior Swordplay is so private and intimate that you can't help but feel like a voyeur reading it. The characters are raw, vulnerable and fully exposed, both emotionally and physically. Exceptional dialogue and expert storytelling, filled with unique and surprising moments and culminating in a powerful ending brimming with emotion and a hint of hope.”

- Craig Houk

Award-Winning Playwright

Well-crafted realistic characters, superbly written dialogue, tasty conflict and a hopeful finish - what more could you want in a play? Nothing, I say! Ruyle taps into human experience like an expert, and the result is a gift to any audience. Produce!

- Vivian Lermond

Award-Winning Playwright

DEVELOPMENT GOALS

SENIOR SWORDPLAY

• • • • •

